

Shipwrecked!

Our band of pirates was last seen by a whaling vessel marooned off the shore of an island in the West Indies!

Our Horse Trials will still take place at the appointed time. Swashbuckler Swell has dispatched his fastest galleon to rescue the thieving lot, and hopes they will make shore later this year to join us in another test of horsemanship.

We look forward to seeing all our entrants this weekend and will keep all posted on the pirate's progress as they venture toward land.
